- Play a Game: Place a set of 20 – 25 cards on the table in front of the individual. By reading each card correctly, they keep it. By not reading a card correctly, they give the card to you. Whoever has the most cards after all (20-25) have been read wins the round.

- Create a Story: Select 10-15 cards making sure there are both verbs and nouns in the set. Ask the individual to read the cards and then make up a story using as many of the words from the set as they can.
